LOCAL ITEMS

The Southern Pacific paycar was here yesterday from the north.

Mrs. C. A. Gildea and the children are visiting relatives in Tucson.

M. L. Haskell, of Kansas City, Mo., is now doing the local reporting on the Times.

Rodolfo Vasquez, the mining man, has gone to Los Angeles, Cal., on private business. We wish him good luck.

Charley Chase, of Roy & Titcomb, Inc., has returned from a pleasure trip to Guaymas, being greatly benefited by his outing.

Sheriff Saxon, after being confined to his home by a slight attack of fever, is again able to attend to the duties of his office.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Hyman have taken up their residence in the pleasant Captain L. W. Mix home on International street.

The sale of the contraband live stock by the U. S. customs has been postponed until next Monday forenoon, at the railroad stockyards.

George W. Crowe, the mining man, has been at the Montezuma hotel a couple of days this week, after having visited Tucson on mining business.

Tomorrow Fred Alford, the assayer, will leave for Cieneguilla, Sonora, where he goes to accept a position with Col. George Beebe's big mining company.

Mrs. M. H. McCord, widow of the late Colonel McCord has returned from Merrill, Wis., where she accompanied the remains of her late husband.

Harry Karns and his bookkeeper Charley Davis, came in from La Mejia Thursday morning, returning to camp the same afternoon, in Mr. Karns' Tourist.

Friends of Mrs. Schultz, the popular dancing teacher, will be pleased to learn that she has almost fully recovered from a severe attack of rheumatism.

J. O. Cheairs, vice-president of the Yaqui River Consolidated Gold & Copper Company, has been in the city a couple of days, after an extended visit north on company business.

With Pablo Soto and Billy Renney as J. L. Branch's right-hand bowlers, the new grocery house may be expected to get its share of local business. Both are past-masters in the business.

Hotel Brickwood has not changed hands, as was recently reported, but is still owned and managed by Mayor John T. Brickwood, who has no intention of disposing of this well known popular rooming house.

Lulley's Academy, formerly Dreamland, is now under the management of "Lucky" Mark Lulley, who will make it the most popular place of amusement in southern Arizona. Mark is a natural born actor and he knows how to please the fun loving public.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Oranz, who now make their home at Minas Nuevas, Sonora, Mexico, have been spending the week in Nogales, where they have many friends and acquaintances. Next week they will return south.

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bethell, of the Washington Trading Company, of this city and Patagonia, have been spending the week at Patagonia. They are closing out their Nogales store and will then go to Patagonia to make their home.

Professor F. J. H. Merrill, the mining engineer and geologist, after an extended absence in Sonora on business connected with the Sonora Development Company, Limited, of which he is president, is a guest at the Montezuma hotel.

Dave Goldbaum, of Tucson, the whisky drummer, was a business visitor in town Thursday interviewing our wetgoods merchants. Dave is a native son of the ancient and honorable pueblo and is well known in every Arizona town.

Manager L. M. Raines of the Columbia Consolidated Mining Company, has gone out to his company's mining camp in the Pinito mountains, in Sonora, Mexico, being accompanied by Mrs. Raines and Master Hampton, their little son.

This week Henry Levin, of Brady-Levin Commission Company, this city, has been a business visitor in El Paso, Texas. During his absence from the city, Mr. J. J. Rafael, the veteran customs broker, has been in charge of the big commission company's business.

W. E. Smith, who with a party of prospectors, will explore the mining districts of the state of Sinaloa, returned to Nogales the forepart of the week from San Blas, for the purpose of purchasing kodak and other supplies needed for the trip which may last two years.

A magnificent display of fireworks is now assured for the coming Fourth of July celebration in Nogales. On Thursday the Fireworks Committee, of which Harry Renshaw is Chairman, closed a contract with a big Los Angeles firm for a display the cost of which is $300.

Sonora News Company have received a large consignment of up-to-date Victor Talking Machines and records, which are offered for sale at eastern prices. The company are agents in Mexico for these high-grade machines.

Mr. Carlos J. Ruppel, cashier of the railroad office on the Mexican side of the line, and his estimable wife, have been made happy by the arrival at their home of a girl baby, which Grandpa Dr. Purdy says is the cutest in the world. Mother and little one are getting along nicely.

All the victims, including Conductor Michael Coffey, of the recent train collision out on the Nogales-Cananea branch, are getting along fine, Mike who was the worst used up of the bunch, being able to circulate among his friends, although he continues to wear a handsome patch over his left eye.

F. F. Oranz, one of the best known geologists and mine expert in the west, has been spending the week in Nogales, looking after his private business affairs, after which he will go to Sonora on mining business. Mrs. Oranz is at present enjoying a visit with her mother at Arizpe, Sonora.

"Silvertip" Nugent, nephew of the late Hon. Michael Nugent, of Yuma, Arizona, has arrived in the city from Benson, to accept a position with William Colburn & Company. Mr. Nugent is a pleasant gentleman who is a past-master in his profession. We welcome him to Nogales and wish him success.

Mr. J. O. Beasley, a prominent Hermsillo mining man, was a visitor in the city a couple of days this week, having come up from the capital of Sonora to meet two capitalists from Chicago, who arrived Thursday night and accompanied him south yesterday, to visit the property in which he is interested.

Chairman J. A. Harrison, of the Board of Supervisors, has received from Texas a thoroughbred Jersey bull calf which will in future be a part of his fine herd. Jim says the handsome little fellow has a pedigree almost as long as your arm, which lack of space prevents publishing in THE BORDER VIDETTE.

Herbert Brown, editor of the Tucson Post, is now in Hermosillo, Sonora's capital city, where he will make a personal investigation of the reports that Yaqui Indians are coming into Hermosillo and other Sonora towns and surrendering. The result of Editor Brown's investigations will appear in the Post.

John T. Cave, president of the Coast Line Copper Company, was a visitor in the city Tuesday of this week, having come up from El Oro on company business, returning south Wednesday morning. Arrangements are being made to resume operations at El Oro, under President Cave's management.

Hermann Scheller, representing the Zellerbach Paper Company, of Los Angeles, was here Thursday interviewing our print shops, securing nice orders from each of them. Scheller is one of the best travelling salesmen on the road today, and is rapidly securing the majority of Arizona's trade for his big paper house.

Wednesday O. A. Banker and Harry Vaughn were visitors in town from Duquesne, where they are in the employ of the Duquesne Mining & Reduction Company, which owns large mineral holdings in this county, including the well known Pride of the West mines formerly owned by Frank Olsen and his partners.

Thursday morning Manuel Mascartias, Jr., accompanied by one of the Cananea, Yaqui River & Pacific engineers, went out over the line of railroad now building between Nogales and Cananea--many miles through the Baena Vista and Santa Barbara ranches owned by Mexican Consul Mascartias, of this city.

Monday Superintendent Gastrey came in from the copper mines out at Santa Cruz owned by Cananea mining men, and while here purchased a large consignment of camp and mine supplies, which were hauled by wagon from Nogales to the camp. The road from here to Santa Cruz is most of the way like an automobile speed-way.

Attorney Walter J. N. McCurdy, who is remembered by many citizens of Nogales during the strenuous days when the late Colonel W. P. Harlow resided here, has been here during the past week, from Bisbee, where he is engaged in the practice of law. Walter McCurdy is one of the brightest young attorneys in the southwest.

Martin Costello, the Tombstone millionaire, accompanied by his attorney Judge Blennman, of Tucson, was a business visitor in Nogales the forepart of this week. Mr. Costello is largely interested in Nogales real estate, and it was on business connected with this that he brought here. Judge Blennman is one Arizona's most successful attorneys.

George D. Gross, mining superintendent, is in from his mining camp north of the city from which he has for some time past been hauling good ore to Nogales for shipment to the customs smelter. George is sure on to his job, as can be proven by the splendid results he has accomplished in a very short time at a very small cost to his company.

Miss Marguerite Bell, sister of Mrs. Harry Simpson, is visiting in the city, a guest of her sister. Miss Bell is a highly accomplished young lady. Her home is in Chicago, Illinois.

Mine Host L. J. F. Jaeger of the Montezuma hotel of this city, and the Santa Rita of Tucson, has been here a couple of days visiting old Nogales friends and acquaintances. Under the efficient management of Miss Mamie Donaghue, the Montezuma is one of the most popular, best paying hotels in all Arizona. Yesterday Mr. Jaeger returned to Tucson.

Colonel George W. Atkinson, the Calabasas rancher, accompanied by his niece, Miss Kate Deegan and her friend Miss Rose Cowley, of Chicago, are enjoying a visit at Colonel Atkinson's big ranch, where the hay-balling season is now on in full blast. The crop of Colonel Atkinson and his neighbors is larger than any previous year in the history of Calabasas.

Joe Scoville, the telephone and telegraph lineman, for a long time in the employ of the Cananea, Yaqui River & Pacific railroad, down on the Yaqui river, in Sonora, is in town. Joe says there is no fun climbing poles every day in that southern country, especially when one is compelled to wear a cannon for use in case of bad Indians, which he hopes will soon be a thing of the past.

P. Sandoval & Co., Nogales, Sonora bankers, have some high-grade copper-silver ore from their fine mining prospects out in the Santa Cruz mining district. The big banking firm, which is also largely interested in Sonora mines and ranch property, were among the first to enter the new mining field, the successful development of which means a great deal for Nogales, its natural supply point.

After spending a week in Nogales on business connected with the claim department of the Southern Pacific Company, G. W. Miller, travelling claim clerk, whose headquarters are in Sacramento, has returned home. During Mr. Miller's visit here he was entertained royally by the Board of Trade, and went away well pleased with that splendid organization and the personal of its membership.

The forepart of the week L. B. Fleischer, president of the Boston Store, Inc., and proprietor of the American Clothing Factory of Nogales, Sonora, was a business visitor at Tucson. Mr. Fleischer is one of Nogales' most prominent and successful business men, whose friends are legion throughout Arizona and Sonora, his big clothing factory being the most important of its kind in Sonora.

James Thompson, who has been prospecting mining properties owned by himself in the Patagonia mountains for a couple of years, came down from Patagonia last night and is spending the day in town purchasing supplies for his camp. Jim says the Patagonia and Santa Rita mountain mining districts are looking up in fine shape, the present year giving promise of being one of the best in the history of that section.

Karns, Howland & McCray have received their four large new Woodbury concentrators from San Francisco, which Manager Karns will at once rush out to La Mejia, where all preliminaries have been made to immediately put them in place. It is only a matter of a short time now when Mr. Karns will be producing high grade silver concentrates from the immense ore bodies on the dump and from the famous old silver producer.

Reliable information from the Maria mine situated eleven miles east of Pozo, Sonora, Mexico, which is being worked by John and Alex Henderson, sons of John Henderson, the mining man, is to the effect that a very important strike of ore carrying high values in silver and lead, has been made at a depth of about ninety-five feet in an incline shaft, and the Maria has every appearance of becoming a big high-grade mine. The boys are pushing development work night and day; they are to be congratulated upon the success they are having.

Joe McCormick, one of the best carpenters that ever mistook a finger for a nail, is again back in Nogales, after an absence of several years, and will now make this his permanent residence, believing that the border city is the best town in Arizona. For a number of years Joe has resided in Tucson with his family. We are pleased to have him with us, and take pleasure in recommending him to any one in need of anything in the line of wood work. Joe is accompanied by Mr. R. S. Mezt, who is here for the purpose of establishing an up-to-date, well equipped bicycle repair shop.

Lieutenant Will Old of the Arizona Rangers, for a long time stationed at Nogales, now at Williams, arrived in the city Wednesday night, and after remaining in this section several days will return to the northern part of the territory. Just at present Lieutenant Old is the only Ranger in this section, but that's all right; when it comes to a show-down, Bill is equal to a dozen ordinary men, and no man question's Captain Wheeler's ability to place his men where they are most needed. About April first, Old will go to Sofia, a mining camp between Phoenix and Prescott, which is said to be the without police protection.

George Lesser, pay master for the Randolph line, ill at the Sisters' Hospital with typhoid fever, continues to improve, thanks to the splendid care he is receiving at the hands of his physician, Dr. A. L. Gustetter, and the Sisters.

Attorney D. A. Richardson, formerly of Nogales, now of Douglas, Arizona, where he is engaged in the practice of his profession, was a business visitor in the city the forepart of the week. D. A. looks as if the smelter city agreed with him.

Our old friend Charley Hood, who several years ago was one of Uncle Sam's guardians of the international line at this port, is now doing the day trick at Monte Carlo, where he will be pleased to see all his old friends and new ones too.

C. E. Kroh, secretary of the Sonora Copper Company, accompanied by a party of stockholders, passed south several days ago en route to Cobre Grande, where the party will inspect the company's property with a view of installing a big reduction plant. The gentlemen are from Missouri.

The selection by the board of directors of the Nogales Building & Loan Association, of H. M. Clagett as secretary, and Harry Renshaw, assistant secretary, to fill vacancy caused by resignation of Captain Perkins, is most excellent and meets the approval of every member of that association.

The Alianza Hispano-Americana anniversary entertainment at Ramirez Theatre last Monday night, under the auspices of Nogales Lodge No. 6, was a success in every respect, and much credit is due all who assisted in making the affair a success. The big theatre was crowded and a most delightful time was had. Every number on the interesting program was well rendered.

Lee Reagan, president of the Yaqui River Consolidated Gold & Copper Company, owning large mineral holdings in the great Alamos district, Sonora, is up from the mines for a couple of days visit with Mrs. Reagan and the children, after which he will return to camp where a large force of miners are constantly employed exploring and developing the company's property, which at the present time looks good.

The city election next Monday bids fair to be the most uninteresting, one-sided affair ever witnessed in any town in Arizona. The Democrats and Republicans have decided on the same candidate--the present city office holders, including the city marshal and city clerk--and all that will be required will be the casting of a few votes in order to close the incident, after which the work of up-building and improving Nogales, will continue uninterrupted, with Street Committee Peck and Doherty in the saddle.

Fine copper silver ore from the Arnold mines out at Santa Cruz, Sonora, is being hauled into Nogales for shipment to the customs smelter. Parties who recently visited the new copper district where a number of Nogales mining men are largely interested, state that operations are progressing in a very satisfactory manner, the district giving promise of becoming even more extensive than predicted by those who first acquired holdings there. The following Nogales people are among those interested in the new copper-silver belt: O. K. Franklin, Harry Smith, F. E. Oranz, Alberto Mascartias, H. K. and W. F. Chenoweth, Rodolfo Vasquez, Ramon Salazar.

J. A. Faymonville, the ever congenial efficient fire insurance man, after two months pleasantly spent in San Francisco, and points of interest in the east, including his old home in Chicago, has returned to Nogales and is receiving the "glad hand" from his friends, who are too numerous to mention. "Joe" as his friends love to call him, is accompanied by Bernard Faymonville, his nephew, whose home is in San Francisco. The young gentleman has accepted a position in his uncle's office and will make Nogales his future home. Bernard has cast his lines in one of the most pleasant places on earth, and we wish him abundant success. He has had considerable experience in the business of writing insurance, having for a long time been in the San Francisco office of the Fireman's Fund Insurance Company of San Francisco, of which his father is president.

Notice to Creditors.
